Here's where we stand with the first three pages of Ask Upon A Pond, using our simpler, retro-1980s blue style, colored golf balls.

Page 1 — Welcome to the Pond

Balls, Balls, Balls!

Toss a ball in the Pond!

Give one to a friend, a stranger, or even a flirt!

Introduce the playful idea of the Pond, with a few colorful golf balls and the questions:

Is it social media? Kind of!

Is it crowdfunding? You bet!

Is it a dating site? Enable flirtation and find out!

Imagine your asks have already been answered.

Sign up while feeling that feeling. Come on in!

The pond as pie, pie as pond.

Together, we can expand the pond, the pie, and all have a swim or a slice—however you want to say it!

Three simple steps:

Show up as yourself. Create a profile around your Dreams, Fun, and the things you like to do.

Discover your people. Explore stories, celebrate someone, make connections.

Keep the balls rolling. Give a ball. Get a ball. Pass one along. See what happens.

There's more than one way to have a great day!

1. Dreams Balls

Help me make something possible.

2. Fun Balls

Hobbies, interests, and experiences.

3. Treats Balls

Coffee, lunch, or something small.

4. Boost Balls

I get by with a little help from my friends.

5. Just Because Balls

Well… just because!

6. Flirt Balls

Give and receive. Enable flirtation to participate.

7. Creator Balls

Show some love to your favorite content creators.

This is our current working structure. Pages 1 and 2 have been developed and refined; Page 3 now has seven categories, with Creator Balls added.

My suggestion is to keep the first three pages focused on welcoming people, explaining how the Pond works, and showing what the balls are for. We can introduce ball prices and the more unusual ideas later.
